CAP Resource Centre and Centre monitoring online sexual assault came to existence

Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan along with his wife Kamala Vijayan has inaugurated the State Level resource centre of Children and Police Project and the centre for monitoring and coordinating the investigation of online sexual assaults against children.

The centre works under the direct control of the State Police Chief Loknath Behera and consists of specially trained police personnel. Manoj Abraham, ADGP, will be the State Level Nodal Officer. 70 police personnel will work under this system. After the establishment of a group on 2019 March to curb the sexual assaults against children, 42 people who engaged in such activities have been arrested and 38 cases have been registered in this regard. Search has been conducted at around 210 places across the State.

The centre will function with the cooperation of Interpol and National Crime Records Bureau. The International Organization for Missing Children will also cooperate with this. The Centre will be an asset for Kerala Police to curb the sexual assaults against children.

The centre is established for the efficient operation and coordination of various projects of Kerala Police associated with children. The Centre will initiate various activities including counseling for children who are addicted to internet. The service of the experts will be made available for this. A call centre will be started for providing all kind of information relating to children.

It has also been planned to start a hub by connecting various organizations which work for children. The Centre will function under the control of the State Police Chief Loknath Behera. P Vijayan, IGP, will be the State Level Nodal Officer.
